Per our conversation, Heather Carson stopped us after being pointed out by Shandra Vom Dorp as the people who had turned them into Building and Safety. Scott wet off on her and I told her (very calmly) that what Eric and Shandra were doing was against the law and that I refused to take the blame for their own situation. That's when she went off on you, saying:

You're a liar.

That you have your own agenda.

That you do not support gay rights, and you think they're secondary to civil rights. She was telling us and everyone who would listen to google this... that you said this on some radio show.

You and Scott Plant purposely went after homeowners like Eric Rosse and Shandra Vom Dorp and some other people (I don't remember their names) by hiring an attorney and used him to make an example out of people. And that he (the attorney) told them (Heather and her crews) this.

And she kept saying very loudly over and over that Anne Marie is a liar.

She was literally stopping people on the street to make this point.

What a lovely neighborhood we live in.

Ugh,

Rick
