

Want to make movies and TV?

We're looking for the next generation of diverse storytellers, and you could be one of them.

Ghetto Film School is an award-winning program that teaches students how to make films and TV, while connecting them to some of Hollywood's most exciting filmmakers--and it's completely free.

Passionate teens ages 14 to 18 from all over LA should apply online now.

www.gfsla.org

Deadline - March 15

